

Introduction for Dave Rodwell

Today's speaker, Dave Rodwell, works as a Private Investigator, Security Consultant and Trainer. Dave developed his investigation acumen and expertise over a span of 28 years of service with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. During those years, he handled a multitude of criminal investigations from shoplifting to murder. He worked on some of Alberta's and the Northwest Territory's most extensive investigations.

Upon retirement from the RCMP in 1996, he entered the field of private investigation and security consultation work. He has conducted investigations, and provided security consulting for numerous companies and individuals.

In this presentation, Dave will talk about his observations and suggestions on the why, when and how to put sound Corporate Security practices in place to protect your company assets.

Please welcome, Dave Rodwell
